METHODIST CLERGY ON BISHOPS' APPEAL.

Difference of Opinion Exists Among Local Ministers as to the Decline of the Church.

THEY DISCUSS CONDITIONS.

Recent Wars Many Admit Have Had the Effect of Stagnating Religious Fervor-Need of Revivals.

Last Friday, March 2, the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at the General Conference in New York City and Issued an appeal to all Methodists to set apart the days from March 25 to April 1, inclusive, as a season of fasting or abstinence and prayer. All Methodists were asked to assemble in their accustomed places of worship at least once each day, humble themselves before God, worship him, personally lay aside every weight and easily besetting sin, and make earnest supplication to him. The Bishops further asked all Methodists to offer up family prayers and daily implore God's mercy for the revival of his work of grace in each heart and throughout their borders

"Let us implore God," prayed the Eishops, "for help that a family altar may be established in each Methodist home, where the Scriptures may be daily read and God's dessing be secured in rearing our children on his word, for him, and that also in the time of our thank-offerings we may bring to his altars at least two million penitent seekers, who shall find peace and security in his church."

This extraordinary appeal has caused considerable comment in the Methodist church circles of this city. The appeal was called forth because of statistics tending to show that modern Methodism is losing prestige in the large cities. The Bishops at the conference decided to adopt this radical ourse to bring the condition of affairs before their people.

Bishops C. H. Fowler, W. X. Ninde and

L W. Joyce were the committee that drafted this appeal. In summarizing the causes portending the decay of American Methodism, they deciare that "to-day our Methodism confronts a serious situation."

Our statistics of the deciare that "to-day our the Gospel." Our statistics for the last year show a decrease in the number of our members. Year before last our advance was checked. Last year our advance column has been forced back a little. We are surrounded by pow-erful enemies. The attack is on every side. It is high time for every Methodist to take himself or herself to prayer to call might-ily on God for help, that each one may know for himself that he is accepted of God."

Criticism of the Bishops.

"Revival meetings," say the Bishops, "have been given up because some people make fun of them. They are oftimes studied make fun of them. They are oftimes studied only in their most ridiculous phases, are sometimes ridiculed as the ephemeral phenomena of shallow natures. Thus some of our churches are contented to nurse their dignified uniformity, and thus fall in their saving work. In some sections criticism is extended to everything sacred, and the preaching and the preacher are handled in the home circle with severity. The family is trained to regard the services of the sanctuary as common and routine. Our chirdren are robbed of their respect for the Church, and the Church is robbed of their presence.

The Bishops conclude by saying that the Methodists are retreating when they should advance at double-quick to keep abreast of the rushing events of the time.

advance at double-quick to keep abreast of the rushing events of the time.

All the St. Louis ministers do not agree with the Bishops when they say that the large cities. The St. Louis divines aver that the church is in a flourishing condition in this city, and while they admit that they have made no advance they say that they have not lost any membership.

They continue to do their share of work among the poor, they say, and are satisfied with the results attained. They admit that their people are not taking as much interest in the church work or their spiritual welfare as they should, and they account for it by saying that in the last two years there has been much to distract their attention from their churches. The war and the war news are some of the causes cited to account for the general tack of interest in the church. One of the ministers said that the peope were too busy during the inst two years reading war news to pay much attention to reading their prayers, and that too light literature and the abandonment of camp meetings, the decline of interest in the church might be attributed.

Opinions of Local Clergy.

Some of the ministers were seen yesterday and their remarks on the appeal of the Bisheps follow.

The Reverend Doctor Jesse Bowman Young, editor of the Central Christian Advocate, said:

"The latest statistics of Methodism in Missouri and Kansas are now being made up, to be reported at the conferences which are about to hold their annual sensions. If we can judge from the reports of revivals and accessions with which our columns have been crowded for weeks, there will be noted a marked increase in the membership in the annual conferences, whose sessions occur between now and the 1st of Aprill. In the State of Missouri, the Methodist Episcopal Church has in the neighborhood of 80,000 members and probationers. For a year or two there has been no advance; indeed, the last printed reports, showing the status in March, 1809, indicate a loss, compared with the previous year, amounting all together to about 1,200. So far as the local situation is concerned, there has been no large gains in revival work this year in our denomination in the city, but throughout the State, and in adjacent States, remarkable meetings have been held and doubtless considerable gains will be registered. The Methodist Episcopal Church in 1809 had an aggregate membership of 2,240,254, and, although there was a decrease of about 2,000 in 1809, yet in nine years there has been a growth of Sti.545. The growth, censiderable and encouraging an it may be, does not satisfy our leaders and should not satisfy the church. Methodism is an evangelistic organization and is endowed with machinery for aggressive work. It seems to be a wholesome sign that the leaders are concerned when the figures no longer show manifest and large gains."

In answer to the question as to what effect the higher criticism was having on the church. Doctor Young said that he could not see that any harm was being done either to ministers or laity in this particular field. He said

The Reverend Mr. Tidwell Demurs.

The Reverend Mr. Cunningham, the oldest Methodist minister in St. Louis, now on the retired list, said that he did not think that the statement made by the Bishops was applicable to Methodism in St. Louis. He said that the membership in the churches had not increased, but that the revivals continued to interest the people, and he called attention to the successful meeting at the Centenary Church about two weeks ago. He said that some few ministers had been called before their churches to explain their position in regard to the higher criticism, but that the members generally were not disturbed by it. He said that the newspapers and mazazines paid more attention to these ministers than the church people did.

The Reverend William B. Palmore, president of the St. Louis Christian Advocate Company, said that he thought the appeal of the Bishops was timely, and that the Methodists of the country needed a waking up. He said that they had been taking too to-day in touch with God than ever before.

Doctor Lee on the Church.

The Reverend Doctor J. W. Lee, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal Southern churches in St. Louis, said:

"I have read the appeal made by the Board of Methodist Bishops in New York City, and while it was made perhaps purely with reference to the Methodist Episcopal Northern Church, I feel that it applies to Methodism throughout the United States. There has been a stagnation apparent in our church life for a couple of years and there has been a lack of vigor and of carbestness and consecration. In proportion to the natural increase the decrease in our church membership has been startling. The attendance has fallen off and I think that there is a dedicit in our contributions. It is not confined, however, to our churches alose, but I believe to other denominations also. Our church life has decayed into routine ritualisticism."

"I think that the causes and the reasons of the stagnation have been thoroughly explained in the appeal of the Bishops. There is a lack of interest in the church work. The contributions have made it impossible to carry the work into the submerged tentifs, and the Methodism has departed from its primal purposes. The people have been overwhelmed with the many theologies and isms, like the vagarles of Christian Science. And we lack a certain self-denial and concentration of purpose at present witch is very harmful to the church. We have lapsed into comfortable wealth and our religion has become a conventional essential. And there is a lack of effort throughout the body of 6,000,000 souls who make the Methodism of the United States. The clergy, itself, is affected by this lethargy, We all need payer and consecration for renewed effort in awakening the people and the clergy."

think it would be sare to say, however, that the appeal, as summarized is in the main a very correct document. There is a stagnation in the church which needs revivifying. We should go back to our primal purposes work."

Wife of the Reverend Mr. Bennett the Plaintiff. The marital troubles of the Reverend and Mrs. Andrew T. Bennett of Manchester, St. Louis County, reached a culmination yesterday in the divorce court at Clayton, when Mrs. Bennett, through her attorney, D. C. Tsylor, filed a petition asking for a severance of the ties that bind her to her husband.

The fiding of the suit caused somewhat of a sensation in Manchester, where Mrs. Bennett is well known. She was married on June 5, 1994. Before that, as Miss Dalsy P. Reinhard, she was the belie of that part of St. Louis County. But when the Reverend Mr. Bennett, a Methodust preamer, sppeared in the neighborhood, conducting a revival, she fell in love with him immediately. At the time of the marriage the match was opposed by Mrs. Bennett's parents on account of her extreme youth. In her petition, Mrs. Bennett alleges that her husband abandoned her in December, 1988, and that he had not for some time previous to that wholly supported her. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name. when Mrs. Bennett, through her attorney,

RESUMED OPERATIONS. Blackwell-Durham Tobacco Company in Receiver's Hands. Charlotte, N. C., March 5 .- The works of the Blackwell-Durham Tobacco Company were operated to-day under P. C. Hill as temporary receiver. Hill was appointed temporary receiver. Hill was appointed last Friday at Charleston by Judge Simonten on application of a majority of stockholders, but the matter was not made public. In the bill of complaint it is stated that $2.800.000 has been offered by the American Tobacco Company for the Blackwell company, but that it cannot be accepted because of the eposition of one stockholder who, it is alleged, purchased one share to harass and vex the majority stockholders. The matter will come up before Judge Simenton April 17, when it is expected a permanent receiver will be appointed and the property ordered soid.

INSURANCE WITHHELD.

Odd Fellows Alleged That Eisele Renounced the Order.

An interesting point was raised in a case which was tried in Judge Withrow's cour yesterday afternoon. The case is an action brought by Mrs. Catherine Eisele against yesterday afternoon. The case is an action brought by Mrs. Catherine Eisele against Frederick W. Prange and others of the independent Order of Odd Fellows. Her husband, William Eisele, was a member of Jefferson Lodge, No. 119, Odd Fellows, and died April 15 hast. Mrs. Elsele is suing for 159 funeral allowance and it a week from the date of her husband's death, allesing that she is allowed that for a year under the rules of the order.

The defense is that Eisele had renounced the order and that she is not entitled to anything.

Testimony was offered showing that a Cathelic priest was sent for to attend Eisele and that he administered the sacrament of extreme unction to him, and that, as the Catholic Church does not sanction the Order of Odd Fellows, Eisele must have renounced the order.

Father Schilling, pastor of Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Succor, testified that a message was received at his house for a priest to attend Eisele and that his agsistant, Father Muckermann, responded: that when Father Muckermann reached Elsele the latter was unconscious. The Sacrament of extrame unction, which consists of anointing with holy oil, was administered.

Counsel for the defense held that that constituted a renunciation of the order.

STREET CHARACTER DEAD.

Old John Jesse, Who Sold Papers,

Compireller's Temporary Clerks.

Compireller Sturgeon yesterday appointed forty-six temporary clerks in the tax department of his office. The press of business in this department at this season of the year necessitates the appointment annually of a corps of assistants to expedite the work. The extra work will keep this force employed for a week or ten days. The appointments, which are subject to the appointments, which are subject to the approval of the Mayor, are as follows: W. E. Caulfield, Otto W. Haber, R. L. Smith, Max Unsar, Henry M. Cabell, Harry Guike, Fred Stiel, Jacob Gabel, A. K. Wilding, John J. Emiling, Milton Steger, George W. Fipe, C. H. "Better live well than live long." You may experience both if you take Hood's David O'Brien and Charles Hoffman, the two boys who were arrested last Wednesday, charged with setting fire to the Madison School. Seventh and LaSaile streets, were released yesterday by Mayor Ziegan, hein's order. The police were satisfied that the boys had not intentionally set fire to the school and Acting Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Maurer, refused to issue a warrant against them. An uncle of the O'Brien boy called on Chief of Police Campbell yesterday and said that he would take the boyof cigarettes. Mayor Ordered Their Release.

From Howard (S. Dalk.) Democrat.

We had eccasion to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a recent case of whooping cough, and found it a most excellent preparation, and one that gives the child immediate relief. Being pleasant to the taste, children do not object to taking it, and it keeps the cough loose. If siver freely and as directed there is practically no danger whatever from the disease.—Adv.

Board of Equalisation.

The members of the Board of Equalisation will be named next Monday by the Circuit Judges. The board will begin the sessions on Monday, March 12, to hear complaints and remonstrances from citizens who believe that their property and personal holdings are assessed too high. The District Assessors are of the opinion that the returns of personal property made for this year are entirely too low, and they are now engaged in an examination of the returns, with a view to discovering wherein the fault lies. The results of their investigations will be laid before the Board of Equalization. Board of Equalization Hospital, suffering from the results of excessive cigarette smoking. He is a young man, and says that before he acquired the cigarette habit his health was good and he was athletic. Now he has a hacking cough and is emaciated. A few days ago his tongue started swelling and grew so large that he could not speak and could only est with the greatest difficulty.

Doctor Scharff, who is treating him, says that he will recover if he gives up the use over cigarettes.
